ROOSEVELT SEEKS DRASTIC JUDICIARY REFORMS

Congress Given Special Message From President

Sweeping Reform Of Federal Judiciary System Is Roosevelt's Proposal

WOULD INCREASE NUMBER OF JUDGES

Might Permit Appointment Of Six Additional Judges At Present Time

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—President Roosevelt proposed to congress today a sweeping reform of the federal judicial system, both as to practice and to personnel, the goal of which is to infuse the bench with new and younger blood, speed up federal justice, and eliminate long delays over deciding the constitutionality of legislation.

Message Startles Congress

Mr. Roosevelt laid his far-reaching recommendations before a startled congress in a special message, and accompanied it with a draft of proposed legislation that, if enacted, would permit the appointment of fifty additional federal judges in all categories—and under present conditions permit a membership of the United States Supreme Court up to fifteen. The present supreme court is composed of nine members.

Under Mr. Roosevelt's proposal, the entire federal judiciary would become an elastic institution, the size of which would be governed by existing conditions.

Proposal In Brief

He proposed, briefly, that when any federal judge, supreme court or otherwise, reached the retirement age of 70 years and six months, and did not elect to retire (as many of them do not) then the president

Spanish Wage Desperate Battle To Hold Malaga

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

MADRID, Feb. 5.—With heavy casualties reported on both sides, two rebel armies fighting for possession of Malaga today closed in on a desperately battling loyalist force, leaving only a narrow mountain corridor for escape.

Center of the fighting lay between Marbella and Fuengirola, on the narrow coastal plain southwest of Malaga, second Spanish seaport, whose speedy capture was predicted by the insurgents.

Guns of six rebel warships hurling shells into loyalist ranks cut off their flight by sea. Rebel sources said the government forces were hemmed in on the southwest, north and northeast by one column advancing from Marbella and the second driving down from Alhama, northeast of Malaga. Only a strip eight miles wide through the snowy mountain passes remains open to the loyalists.

Government reports from Malaga, however, strongly denied that there would be any occasion for flight, as the loyalists were said to be more than holding their own.

Plan For Fox Hunt In County Saturday

Tally-ho!

There is going to be a genuine fox hunt in Lawrence county tomorrow morning for the first time since Chief Pak-an-ke held court under the old sycamore tree on the public square.

War has been declared on a pirate band of foxes preying on chickens and barnyard animals out in Little Beaver and North Beaver townships and Saturday morning, if this snow stays in place, a party of determined men will a'hunting go.

They won't be in top hats and on prancing horses, but it will be a real fox hunt just the same—one such as the jolly old Englishmen have never seen, for the prize will not be one fox, but (according to reports from the farmers) between 25 and 30.

The posse of sportsmen volunteers from New Castle and all parts of the county will meet Saturday morning at the Meyer and Weller store in the Seventh ward not later than 8:30 o'clock. A guide who knows the lay of the land out in the southwestern part of the county will be there to meet them and together they will start on the hunt.

Farmers in the district between Petersburg, O., Moravia, Enon Valley and as near as Mt. ackson have been aroused by the continued raids made by the sly, pointed-eared bushy-tailed pirates, and they agreed to this united action.

A few of the red fox have been killed from time to time but the pack seems to be getting larger instead of smaller. The sportsmen are grabbing at the opportunity given by the weather man and expect to track the animals down and cramp their predatory dispositions.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Tonight's the night—big flood relief fund raising benefit by Red Cross at the Cathedral. Be there!

City street department employes were kept quite busy late Thursday and this morning ashing the slippery streets. The job had to be repeated several times during the period in order to provide safety on the hills.

Pa Newc believes that the suggestion of the Men's Garden club, made to city council, that the Public Square be beautified, as well as other city owned plots, is a good one. It ought to be feasible to do something in the heart of the city where it will be seen, as well as in less conspicuous places.

Snowfall didn't appeal to skating enthusiasts so much last night. They were afraid the snow would get so heavy that the fine skating of the past few days would be spoiled.

Just about a week or so and Valentine Day will be with us once more.

Coasting on New Castle street is again a problem. Pa Newc noted coasters on numerous much travelled streets last night, with the attendant danger to coasters and auto drivers alike.

Gas Explosion Rocks Louisville

One Building Destroyed By Blast With Loss Of Probably $200,000

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 5—A terrific gas explosion rocked this flood-beleaguered city today, destroying the Bollinger-Hancock Coffee Company building at a loss estimated at from $150,000 to $200,000.

The blast hurled the entire roof of the four-story structure into the air, and shattered windows for blocks around. Leaping flames which followed in its wake gutted what remained of the building.

A merchant policeman who was standing three blocks from the blast said the jolt seemed to press the street up beneath him, lifting him nearly a foot into the air.

Flood refugees crowded onto temporary cots in a nearby bank building were hurled from their beds by the force of the early morning detonation.

Firemen who rushed to the scene were handicapped by the fact that there has been no water pressure in the city mains since the flood devastation. They brought the fire under control, however, by pumping from a river.

Crest Of Ohio River Flood Has Passed City And Entered Mississippi

LEVEE SYSTEMS IS GUARDED BY 150,000

Mississippi Valley Prepared For Onrushing Flood Reports Indicate

(International News Service)

Its work of death and destruction finished in the Ohio valley, the flood crest of the Ohio poured into the Mississippi today to menace the 1200 mile stretch from Cairo to New Orleans.

A drop of twelve-hundredths of a foot in the past 24 hours at Cairo led rivermen to believe the crest had passed that beleaguered city. The Ohio's stage at Cairo was 59.50 early today, with the torrent rushing harmlessly past the 60-foot seawall and the army of 4000 men who have staged a long and spectacular battle with the river confident of victory.

150,000 Men On Guard

Downstream the pick and shovel army of more than 150,000 men guarding the billion dollar levee system prepared for the deluge.

Army engineers were confident the flood control system will keep the Mississippi within bounds, but neverthless 10,000 levee workers were massed along the 17 mile front stretching from Hickman, Ky., to Tiptonville, Tenn., and a fleet of 150 Coast Guard boats stood by ready for rescue work.

Rain, wind, sand boils and seepage are the principal dangers now.

Meanwhile, Miss Hurlbut, 20, allegedly has refused to say "yes" or "no" twice a week for the past year. Maritime Workers March Back To Jobs After Strike That Lasted For 98 Days

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5.—Maritime workers on the west coast today marched back to the jobs they quit 98 days ago when the longest shipping strike in Pacific coast history was called.

San Francisco's waterfront was typical of the scenes in all coast ports from San Diego to Seattle. Here 160 longshore gangs of 16 men received instructions to report at docks where thousands of tons of cargo have lain since Oct. 29.

There were many more tons in the holds of 237 vessels, long idle, but getting up steam today for new sailings.

The end of the strike formally was accomplished last night with the signing of new one-year agreements between shippers and the seven west coast maritime unions.

SEEK PERMANENT RELIEF PLAN

Congress Will Study Problem

Little Progress Made In Four Years Of Emergency Relief Program

HUGE COST WILL STILL CONTINUE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—After treating jobless relief as an emergency problem for the last four years, congress today was preparing to order a national survey of the causes of unemployment and methods of relieving it, in order to adopt a permanent congressional policy.

This development came after the senate devoted a whole afternoon to debating the handling of unemployment relief, now costing in excess of three billion dollars annually with no end in sight, despite improved economic conditions and steadily rising lists of employed. Congressional leaders were shocked by warnings there is little hope of keeping the relief cost for the next fiscal year, which starts July 1, down to the $1,500,000,000 recommended by President Roosevelt.

Move Is Started

The move to find out something about the unemployment problem was made by Senators Hatch (D) of New Mexico, and Murray (D) of Montana, who announced they would introduce a joint resolution for the creation of a national commission to study the situation and report to congress. The commission would be appointed by the president and consist of from five to 15 members, with full authority to investigate every phase of unemployment and its relief.

"We want a comprehensive study and survey of the problem and all its causes, factors and phases," said Hatch. "Congress is charged with the duty of determining its own relief policy and now we have no information on which to base an intelligent decision. We have dealt with relief as an emergency problem but the emergency has passed and it looks now like congress must enact a long range program and consequently we ought to have the information necessary to promote a definite policy."

Has Support

The Hatch-Murray move had tremendous support from both Democrats and Republicans. Senators Barkley (D) of Kentucky, Connally (D) of Texas, Maloney (D) of Connecticut, and Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, declared it inescapable.

The inquiry would be broad enough to include present policies of the WPA and PWA to determine whether the unemployed have been receiving the maximum amount of benefits out of each dollar spent and whether states, cities and counties should contribute to or participate in spending the funds.

The issue was raised initially by Senator Bailey (D) of North Carolina, who offered an amendment to prohibit use of any of the $789,000,000 deficiency relief fund for construction of state, county or city projects unless actual need were proven. His amendment was defeated after considerable debate on the need for accurate information on unemployment.

engineers said as they announced all the main levees have been bulwarked to hold even more water than is in sight.

Despite the confidence of engineers, they continued their vigilance and their day and night patrol of the dikes. An instance of their vigilance was noted at Dundee, Miss., yesterday when a sand boil erupted back of the main line levee. An emergency crew hemmed in the geyser with sand bags, while another crew threw up a secondary levee embracing the sand boil.

Recedes At Cairo

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 5.—The Ohio river continued a slow recession here today as the flood crest poured into the Mississippi to menace the lower valley.

Though the levees held out the wall of water still surrounding the beleagured city, the vigilance of the army of 4000, jubilant over their victory over the torrent, was unrelaxed.

The river stage was 59.50 early today, a drop of twelve-hundredths of a foot in 24 hours.

The recession will be very slow, Meterologist W. E. Barron warned, and it was not known when the evacuated citizens will be permitted to return to the city.

The boiling Ohio, not to be wholly cheated, had wreaked its first flood damage today. Flood waters forced through a substrata of sand backed up two artesian wells which overflowed and weakened the foundation of a 60-foot smokestack which toppled to the ground. The city continued to be plagued by sand boils, and emergency crews dashed through the city with truck loads of sandbags damming the spouting geysers.

Everything in connection with the party has been donated by New Castle citizens, not one cent of expense having been incurred by the committee in making their arrangements. At a result, every cent taken in will be a net profit for the flood sufferers. Those attending are asked to bear in mind that the party has been arranged to raise money for those flood victims, thousands of whom have lost everything they ever owned, except the clothes on their backs.

Good Program

The entertainment committee has arranged a plendid program in the auditorium. The WPA orchestra will present a concert lasting half an hour, and in addition, the special dance band of fifteen pieces will furnish the music for the dancing during the evening.

There will also be a splendid program of vaudeville numbers presented by the city's leading talent. This alone is worth the price the tickets are costing.

For those who dance, play cards, or enjoy Bingo, these attractions are offered at a slight extra cost.

Then the club women of the city have gathered together hundreds of pounds of candy, which will be sold during the evening by a group of most attractive lassies from the Rainbow Girls.

Sandwiches, hot dogs, and soft drinks all contributed, will be dispensed by the refreshment committee.

Other Entertainment

Then there is some special entertainment. Earl Dukes, Ed. Connelly, and Wilbert J. Chapman will have charge of a special feature which will be presented in the bowling alley, downstairs at the left of the ball room.

DeLace Cole, and his rube band and entertainers will course through the big building, presenting their comedy ad evening. Stan Tresser has a midway rigged up somewhere in the building, and Martha Bigley and her fortune tellers will hold forth in spooky places.

It's going to be a big party folks, so bring along a few extra dimes, because the cause is one of the most worthwhile you have ever been asked to help with, and help Lawrence county put over its quota for the flood victims.

WOOL GROWERS MEET SATURDAY

Afterwards, pictures on wool marketing and sheep production in Pennsylvania will be shown. D. C. Bell, sheep husbandry expert at the Ohio experimental station at Wooster, O., will discuss recent findings in the sheep industry.

The meeting as outlined will be one of the most interesting yet held by the association and is certain to be largely attended.

Two Hundred Enter Schools February 1

Figures released today by Superintendent C. C. Green of the New Castle public schools, show that 200 new pupils entered the school system on February 1, the start of the second semester. This as against 206 who entered at the same time a year ago.

The new pupils will not affect the net enrollment of the schools to any extent as the graduating class of the mid-year commencement saw 215 students finish school.

Their only attendants were Williamina Loudon, a sister of the bride, and George Loudon, a brother. The bride was attired in a heather blue costume, with gardenias at the neckline, and brown accessories. Her attendant wore coronation blue lace, with black accompaniments, and a shoulderette of Talisman roses.

A quiet reception for the immediate families was held in the Loudon home after the ceremony. Later, the newlyweds departed on a short trip without revealing the destination. When they return, they will go to housekeeping at 619 North Ray street. The groom is connected with the J. F. Perelman Jewelry company in New Castle.

VAST PUBLIC WORK PLAN

THE gigantic flood control and conservation program sent to congress by President Roosevelt appears to offer, in broad outline, practical suggestions for combatting the elemental forces which recently have wrought incalculable destruction in the Ohio river valley. Moreover, as a means of fighting future economic depressions the plan seems to have points in its favor.

The most noteworthy feature of the program worked out by the National Resources Committee, which the president has passed along to congress with his recommendations, is its unification of a vast number of aims and projects for long-time development. Such a program should do away, in large measure, with frantic relief endeavors which are palliative in their effect but accomplish nothing toward the prevention of similar heart-breaking emergencies.

As for the whole question of public works, the president is quite right in saying that they were undertaken "rather hurriedly" during the depression and that "now is the time to develop a long-range plan and policy of construction—to provide the best use of our resources and to prepare in advance against any other emergency." It is to be assumed, of course, that in such an encompassing program as the one advanced some classes of projects would be held in reserve to provide work in periods of economic depression.

Of outstanding importance is the recommendation for construction of fourteen reservoirs at the Ohio river's headwaters. The Allegheny river, Tionesta creek, Crooked creek, French creek, Conemaugh river, Mahoning creek and Red Bank creek mentioned in the report are Pennsylvania streams feeding the Ohio and should have first claim to federal attention. These streams are perhaps the chief contributing factors in Ohio river floods. Flood-prevention efforts should start with them.

Since this program has wide ramifications affecting many diverse activities it will be expensive. Estimates of a $5,000,000,000 expenditure over a period of several years may or may not be accurate. The suggestion of $85,000,000 for Ohio river reservoirs seems comparatively moderate. If for anything like this amount Louisville, Cincinnati and the other Ohio valley communities could be spared repetitions of this year's disaster the cost would be relatively inconsiderable.

One obvious difficulty to be faced in such a monumental program as is now outlined is political pressure for needless expenditures. Whatever congress does about this plan, it offers opportunity for pork-barrel tactics and monumental waste. The taxpayers, it is reasonable to believe, would accept a genuinely constructive long-range program of this type. But they should not be loaded down with costs which represent not flood control nor conservation, but only political greed and opportunism.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

ISOLATED TOWNS

Many communities in the middle west and northwest have found out during recent snow storms, what it means to be cut off from the world. One dispatch told of a dozen towns without food and fuel.

The old time community never worried about isolation. The pork in the shed, the flour barrel in the pantry, and the woodpile in the back yard, assured health and comfort. Modern life, with its amazing system for distributing commodities, is based on the idea of distributing supplies as needed with small reserves on hand at any time. Our magnificent machines keep that transportation system going almost continuously. But, sometimes, as during recent days, the power of the storm proves too much.

LAWS ON HORSE TRADING

The traditionalists, those intellectual slaves to the customs of the past who view with concern or alarm any disposition to pioneer into new fields of thought or action, should be disturbed over recent reports of legislation pending in the Arkansas House of Representatives.

Under a bill introduced by Representative Darnell, owners of horses or mules who file the teeth of animals with the intent to deceive prospective purchasers will be subject to a maximum jail sentence of thirty days or a fine of not more than $150 upon conviction.

This bill is an extremely radical piece of legislation because it would interfere seriously with a time-honored practice in the ancient institution of hoss trading.

Such a law is really an affront to the intelligence of one who knows his horses. In fact, a trader worthy of the name assumes as a matter of course that the owner of a horse has resorted to a number of known artifices to present his beast to the best possible light—young, sound in wind and limb, bridlewise and so gentle as to be a fit mount for lady or child.

The technique, in many respects, is that followed by salesmen in other lines—motor cars that have seen their best days, real estate that is mostly under water and stock in Mexican gold mines. As a matter of self-preservation, the prospective purchaser must be wary.

But a horseman who would permit himself to be misled through the simple expediency of filing a horse's teeth should entrust this responsibility to others. After all, horse trading is one of the finer arts. And the same logic applies to dealing in mules.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BOY SETS FIRES

"DEAR MR. MYERS: I have a nephew, seven years of age, who seems to have a desire to start . . . he started a fire. He was punished, and when I came out he was crying and his mother promised she would have his fingers burned before he went to bed. This did not materealize, as I could not stand anything of that kind. . . . He promised he would not do it again

"Before leaving for their home I told him if he would promise not to start a fire for five years I would give him a real wrist watch. . . . He was not feeling well so the mother did not send him to school but let him play out of doors. He found among some rubbish cans containing candles and matches, and lit the candles and put them under the house. . . . The mother said she told him she would have his father punish him when he came home from work.

"I was speaking or this to a friend and she suggested that I write you. . . . Enclosed find stamped self-addressed envelope for reply."

My reply: I can see how eager you are to help this lad, but your scheme was about as ineffective as the mother's. Five years are about as far away as heaven to a child, and has no stronger pull. You cited two foolish and unfulfilled promises of the mother which probably are among hundreds of such. I'm glad, however, the child's fingers were not burned on the first instance—too much danger from infection. Wish he had had some burning smacking by the flat hand or a paddle low on his bare bottom, even at this late age, immediately after the first fire you cited.

Escapes Whipping

Glad the father did not whip him in the second instance. No meaner thing I can think of than for a mother to request the father to whip a child on reutrning home, or to give him any other punishment. Since this mother lacks self-control and integrity, neither she nor the father may be competent to punish the child, and probably should be warned against any kind of corporal punishment—always very dangerous with any parent who is not highly self-controlled. Instead, advise Dad to go with the lad some day to an open field far away from buildings, taking with him much kindling for fires and compel this lad to build one fire after another for about two hours at a stretch, with the hope that building a fire will thereafter have very painful association.

Let me advise mothers of young children to administer immediate strong physical pain on the first and every other instance when the child plays with fire or matches. There must be no exceptions.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

WHAT CAN I SAY?

I wrote an article and two men read it, got out their typewriters and wrote letters to me.

What I wrote was intended to help some reader who believed that the trouble that was on him at the moment would last forever. . . In my fumbling way I advised that unknown reader to wait, to hold fast and wait until the wheel of life turned once more and brought back to him the precious gift of enjoying life.

I know that it is thus the wheel turns for most of the men and women on this earth. Life is stronger than we are and few of us are capable of sustained and continuous creativeness, enthusiasm, joy or misery. Something within us rises and falls, like the earth waters in the well.

One man told me in his letter that what I wrote had helped him. He had cut it out and put it in a scrap book because he felt I meant what I said and that it hit home to him. . . The other man, older than the first, I think, and older than this writer, did not accuse me of insincerity, but he said he was sure I had known sorrow, but never grief. And could not have written as I did if I had ever been struck to the earth by grief.

Many years ago he had lost part of his life, some beloved one, and that grief had never left him. The world might think him happy, with his family, with his responsibilities cheerfully accepted, but the deep wound in his heart had never healed. And I who had known only sorrow, never grief, could not know and could not write about his quiet agony.

For him this is the truth. . . . But we are all kinds of men and women. Some of us are not capable of profound grief, and there are some who swing back quickly from it or lay their grief gently and strongly away. And some hold steadily to their grief and carry it with them always, almost proudly, blood brothers and sisters of the great tragic figures of the past. . And would my friend say Anaxagoras grieved the less when he was told his son was dead, because he said only this: "I knew that he was mortal."

DEAR Miss Markel—Is the use of napkin rings improper? READER.

Answer—Those who can afford to supply three clean napkins a day to each member of the family need not resort to this method of economy which is frowned upon by the fastidious. But in many families where such a large laundry bill is prohibitive, napkin rings are still used when only the family is present. The ring should be used only as a means of identification and should be removed before the napkin is placed beside the plate of the person who has previously used it.

Like the tooth pick, it should never be visible to any one at the table.

Dear Miss Markel—When passing sugar and cream at the table should the passer hold the handle or turn it toward the one to whom it is being passed? READER.

Answer—The handle should be turned toward the person to whom it is being passed. It is always less awkward, too, to place the object passed on the table and let the person pick it up than to hand it to him.

Favor Return Of Colonies.
Great Britain Is Favorable.
Lord Elibank Points Way.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

GERMANY'S DEMAND for return of colonies seems to be gaining ground in Great Britain. The British fear that the Germans, under Hitler's constant emotional goading, may precipitate a catastrophic war unless appeased.

Significant is this letter of Lord Elibank to the London Times:

"I have recently returned from a mission to certain empire countries, including Canada, Australia and New Zealand, and in all these I have found the belief that there must be some solution of this issue not beyond the wit of men and statesmen to devise, and that it would be folly to risk another European war on account of not dealing with it.

"This is a question which concerns not only our own nation, but all the colony-owning nations. . . . On analysis it will be found that the colony-owning nations are: Great Britain, France, Italy, Portugal, Holland, Belgium, Spain, the United States and Japan. These countries between them should with good will be able to satisfy Germany's aspirations, Germany on her part making a contribution to the general pacification of the world and being reasonable, even if disappointed, if she does not receive back all her ex-colonial territories.

"Personally I have never felt any strong reason against the return to Germany of Togoland, or of the Cameroons, and I believe if European peace were at stake, New Zealand would not feel very strongly about the return of Samoa, nor Australia about the return of German New Guinea. Japan might even be persuaded to hand back some of the islands in the Pacific which she received under mandate.

"So far as Holland is concerned, she neither lost nor won anything during the last war in her comfortable position as a neutral country protected by the Allies on both sides. She has huge undeveloped areas in Dutch New Guinea—adjacent to German New Guinea — peopled by tribes still living in the Stone Age and regarding all white men as belonging to the same nationality and race. There, and perhaps elsewhere, she might be able to help. Portugal likewise has large areas of very sparsely developed territories whose inhabitants need not suffer by change of mastership. Portugal could also help if so minded.

"I have one final suggestion. Germany's economic difficulties would, I believe, be greatly alleviated:

"(1) By a settlement of the war debts question; (2) by an adjustment of her reparations payments so as to spread them over a longer period; and (3) by a devaluation of her surrency so as to bring it into proper relationship with the other principal currencies in the world."

THERE ARE PROBLEMS

But all is not so simple, as Col. Charles Ponsonby, member of parliament and chairman of the Joint East African board, points out:

"Those who have interested themselves in the plea of Germany for the return of all or some of her former colonies will be grateful to The Times for having opened its columns for so long to the ventilation of the question. The correspondence has been throughout fair and in no way unfriendly to Germany.

"In their speeches Dr. Schacht and Herr von Ribbentrop do not desire colonies as outlets for their surplus population, or for reasons of prestige. They desire them in order to supply the home country with raw materials and to increase their world trade. Dr. Schacht contrasts the countries ruling over territories containing almost all raw materials, and in which their own or linked currencies circulate, with those which have limited space and a large population and, owing to the poverty of their soil, are more dependent on international trade.'

"How does Tanganyika fit into this picture? . . . By the terms of the mandate Tanganyika can give no preference to British goods or

COW-BOY ENGLISH

The West is still "West". There are cowboys who speak the same language used in the days of "The Virginian".

Down in Texas there was a murder committed upon a cattle ranch and a cowboy was called as a witness at the trial of the alleged murderer.

The attorney for the prisoner asked the cowboy to relate the actual shooting, and finally led up to the firing of the fatal shot. He then asked the witness:

"What did you do then?"

To which the witness replied:

"About that time I got loose with the harness on!"

This statement caused considerable levity in the courtroom, whereupon the court, rapping for order, admonished the witness that "in answering questions he should speak everyday English, and not use such slangy expressions."

Counsel for the prisoner then arose and said:

"Your honor, this young man is a product of the Western plains, and speaks only on the language he has learned;" that the language just used by him was "plain everyday English to him," and closed with the request that the witness "be permitted to tell in his own language what he did."

The court then ordered the witness to proceed and to tell the jury in language they would understand "just what he did," and the witness, turning to the jury, said:

"Gentlemen, to tell you the truth, I took the high tail and went to the weeds."

He who has seen a cow in the springtime, when the heel flies begin to work, with her tail elevated above her back, running for the high "weeds" to get rid fo the flies, can appreciate what this witness did on that occasion.

AFTERWARDS

This was the prayer that oft we made
And thought it made in vain:
That God, his faltering strength to aid,
Would let us share his pain.

We who had strength for every task
That strength with him would share.
Nightly we turned to Him to ask
What he no more could bear.

Day after day we pleaded thus:
Lord, can you not release
Some of his cruel pain to us
That he may rest in peace?

God heard! A calm is on his brow,
And as we made our prayer
He sweetly sleeps tonight, but now
The pain is ours to bear.

Pennsylvania Pays Huge Tax

Second Largest Contributor To Uncle Sam's Cash Box Last Year

NEW YORK LEADS STATE PAYMENTS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. — New York state last year was the most generous contributor to Uncle Sam's cash box, internal revenue statistics showed today.

From this state alone, the federal government derived $815,893,348 in taxes, or about 25 per cent of the treasury's total receipts for 1936.

Federal revenue collections for the year amounted to $3,787,336,060 or $400,000,000 over 1935. This represented $811,000,000 in corporation, $739,000,000 income, $2,232,000,000 in miscellaneous and $3,000,000 in agricultural adjustment taxes.

Pennsylvania was the second largest contributor, yielding $327,600,000 against $265,900,000 in 1935. Corporation taxes from Pennsylvania amounted to $55,549,000; individual income levies, $65,200,000; miscellaneous internal revenue, $206,696,000 and agricultural adjustment levies $131,000.

to the goods of any other country. Moreover, it is not always remembered that even if the mandate were absolved Tanganyika (with Kenya, Uganda, Nyasaland, etc.) is in the area of the Congo Basin treaties (originating with the Treaty of Berlin of 1885), which impose free trade on all nations in that huge area. There are thus ancient as well as modern treaties to overcome before any one country can reap a trade advantage through its mandate or other control of these territories. If Germany requires to draw raw materials from a colony which would be free from the restraint of any trade or other treaties, Tanganyika does not meet her requirements.

"On the subject of the security of Africa, the most vital matter which has hardly received adequate notice, the Union of South Africa have the right to give their views, as well as the government of southern Rhodesia and the residents in the colonies and protectorates of Kenya, Uganda and Nyasaland. They all insist that there must be no jeopardizing of the imperial communications or of the peaceful conditions prevailing throughout those countries. If the question of a change of ownership was put to the committee of imperial defense, is there any doubt that their answer would be the same as those of the inhabitants of the surrounding countries, while the peoples of India and the Far East also demand freedom and security of air and sea communications which are essential to the trade of the world?"

"Little Miss Nobody," a three-act comedy, will be presented on the Volant school stage Friday evening, February 26, by the senior class, Principal S. Glenn McCracken announced today.

The cast has been selected and the seniors are hard at work. Miss Elda John is the coach. "Little Miss Nobody" is one of the season's most entertaining theatrical presentations. The Volant school reports a near record in attendance for the month of January as compared with most school attendance percentages which have fallen considerably due to a great amount of sickness in most sections. Many schools have only half their students in attendance. Volant considers itself very fortunate in being so lightly stricken.

Plans are underway for the spring music pageant. Students and teachers will soon begin work in preparation for this presentation, which will be given during the first part of April.

Sit-Down Strikes Are Not Approved

Declaration Against Sit-Down Strikers Is Applauded In Congress

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—After applauding a declaration against "sit down strikers", the house on Thursday by a vote tabled a resolution calling upon Secretary of Labor Perkins for detailed information concerning the General Motors strike in Michigan.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. Hoffman (R) of Michigan, called upon the labor secretary to state her attitude on this type of labor struggle, as well as the number of men out of work and similar information.

No Endorsement.

Chairman Connery (D) of Massachusetts of the labor committee evoked applause when he said that not a single member of the committee endorses "sit down strikes". There are 18 members of the committee.

The Hoffman resolution, Connery said, was reported adversely by the committee because it sought information about the General Motors strikers only and would thus make the secretary of labor a partisan.

"To the best of my knowledge not one member of the labor committee endorses sit down strikes," said Connery. "We do not believe any man has the right to go on the property of another and say I'm going to stay here and not work.

"The committee however, hopes to see a peaceful solution of the strike. Passage of this resolution would only interfere with peaceful solution."

Westminster Plans To Greet 700 High School Students On Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 5—Forty students have been named on the receiving committee for Westminster's high school guest day Saturday, Feb. 6, which is expected to be the greatest day in Westminster college history. The number of students to attend has passed the 600 mark, in addition to approximately 75 visiting high school principals.

Two complete programs have been prepared for the high school visitors, beginning with greetings from President Galbreath in Memorial chapel and ending with the Bethany-Westminster basketball game in the gym at 8:15 o'clock. Under the direction of George Horchenroether Pittsburgh, chairman, and Graham Carter, Pittsburgh, and Mary Boyd, Wilkinsburg, sub-chairman, a committee of 40 students will take complete charge of the visiting high schoolers and entertain them during the day, aiding them in giving the examinations and arranging campus tours.

Program Planned

The hour test to be given the students will be a "college prediction test' for which no special preparation will be necessary. The Little Theatre will present a student cast in "The Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden", a one-act play, with the following role: Mas, Marion Thompson, New Wilmington; Caroline, Lucille Purdy, Coraopolis; Arthur, June Teachout, Ashtabula, O.; Pa, Earl Hines, Erie; stage manager, Kay Ingold, Pittsburgh, and Beaulah, Ruth David, Butler.

At six o'clock in the evening visiting principals and their wives and teachers will be guests of the college at a dinner.

From nine o'clock in the morning until five in the afternoon a complete program of entertainment has been arranged in the gymnasium.

Preceding the basketball curtainraiser, Westminster and Bethany Frosh quintets, Charles Schmitt, Brackenridge, will lead in community singing in Main memorial chapel at seven o'clock. The varsity game with the Bethany Bisons will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

The men's student delegation appointed to entertain the visitors is made up of Robert Mulholland, Jennings Poole, William Whiteside, Robert Grier, Ray Elliott, Edwin Brown, Al Smith, Floyd Ewalt, Robert Wallace, Richard Morris, Robert Maxwell, McElroy Smith, William Barr, Joe Cooper, Arthur Dunn, Robert Lauterbach, John Melhorn, Hal Riefer, Charles Shaffer and James Ewalt.

A women's delegation will be made up of Sally Hamilton, Peggy Eversole, Mary Jane Stevenson, Isabel Meloy, Marie, Nevin, Martha Cochran, Elizabeth Charles, Mary Jane Metzler, Agnes Donaldson, Doris Hill, Kay Wagner, Janet Bayles, Shirley Fisher, Louise Lane, Esther Manson, Mary Donson, Sue Irons, Virginia Mack, Clara Brown and Marjorie Dunn.

Railroad Men In Canada Are Talking Strike

Nation-wide Railroad Strike In Canada Would Put 100,000 Men Out Of Work

(International News Service)

MONTREAL, Feb. 5.—Threat of a nationwide railroad walkout involving upwards of 100,000 men hangs over Canada today following news that the railway trades rave refused to accept the board of conciliation wage ruling and are calling for a strike ballot.

Telegrams to W. M. Dickson, deputy of labor, H. B. Chase, spokesman for the railway running trades, warn that a strike ballot is being submitted to the union group. The walkout would paralyze Canada's two major lines, the privately owned Canadian Pacific and the government-owned Canadian National Railways.

Looking through some old papers, District Attorney Mont L. Alley came across an interesting deed which was given his father in 1857. The deed was signed by President James Buchanan and was a homestead site in Iowa. At that time Iowa was being colonized and all grants had to be signed by the president. Mr. Alley took advantage of the opportunity to secure a homestead site in the new state.

Suit was filed in the office of Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar on Thursday by the Quaker State Oil Company against Samuel Jacobson of Ellwood City. The plaintiff asks $426.37 with interest from February 1, 1937 claiming the amount on a bill for oil purchased by the defendant.

John and Cassie Newswander filed a suit against Wilford Fox of Newport to gain possession of a property they own but which it is claimed Fox is occupying without paying rent.

Sufficient signatures have been secured to petitions for the addition of new voting precincts that the order of court may be expected within a short time. The first ward is the only ward where some signatures are still needed.

When the order is handed down New Castle will have 42 voting precincts in the city, which should make for more speed on election nights.

AFTER ALL, YOUR HOME TOWN GROCER SERVES YOU BEST

FAIRLAWN Saves You Money

Are Grocers People?

In this day of million dollar mergers, big business and coast-to-coast enterprises, you may well ask - have grocers forgotten to be "just folks"?

It does seem as if the bigger business gets, the less personality it has, the more regulated and hidebound it becomes. And - the less it caters to the individual wants of its patrons. A concern with five million customers isn't going to worry about particularly pleasing just you.

Fairlawn never wants to be so big that it will lose sight of the individual comfort, convenience and welfare of each and every customer.

In Fairlawn, you buy from a local grocer, one whose personality has the warm human support of long-standing friendships. You deal with a flesh and blood person, who thinks, and acts, laughs and worries, belongs to the same church and clubs - that you do. He might slip up once in a while and need a piece of your mind, but in the long run he will be found deserving of your favors, your confidence and your loyalty.

After all - your hometown grocer serves you best.

BESSEMER HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Members of the high school chorus who presented the operetta "Hollywood Bound", held a party Wednesday evening, Feb. 3, from 8:00-10:30. The head chairman was Jessie Carr, aided by Mary Tasota, Bill Pelto, and Bill Nelson.

Mr. Capezutti presented the following as his assembly program, recently:

Devotionals.
Play—"Advance of Science".
Band number.
Talk, "My Trip To Washington, D. C."—Joe Gallena.
Play—"Patent Medicine".
Announcements.
Band.

The assembly program last Friday was brief, owing to Mr. Hostettler having been ill. Mr. Hostettler led the devotionals, after which the orchestra played several numbers and the announcements were made. Mr. Hostettler also gave a short talk, making a plea for flood relief. The rest of the assembly was turned over to the cheer leader for a pep meeting.

Miss Crawford has been absent for several days, due to illness.

A large number of pupils have also been victims of the "flu". The basketball teams have felt keenly the loss of such players as Dick De Arment and Lily Puz.

Although both have returned to school, it will probably be some time before they are back in uniform.

After dropping both games to New Wilmington, Tuesday, Jan. 26th, in a close contest on the New Wilmington floor, both red and black teams came through with victories on their home floor Tuesday, February 2, the girls winning 23-19, and the boys 19-18.

Friday night, the Bessemerites look forward to a stiff engagement when they meet the Mt. Jackson teams at Mt. Jackson.

The Bessemer faculty B. B. team will play the Mt. Jackson faculty Thursday night at Mt. Jackson.

Mr. Nord announced in Friday's assembly, the high school's participation in the forensic and music contests, to be held in April. Miss Macklin and Mr. Martin will coach the music events, and Miss Gardner, Miss Patterson, and Miss Wilder will supervise the speaking events. Students were urrged to try out for contest participation.

Students founds themselves facing the camera when they left the building at noon Tuesday. The firemen have arranged to have movies made of the different town activities and town's people. These will be shown at a program to be presented by them on Thursday and Friday, February 11th and 12th.

Eleven seniors, accompanied by Mr. Nord and Miss Geiger will be entertained by Westminster College Saturday afternoon and evening. The seniors will compete in a scholarship test, as well as attend the Bethany-Westminster debate, and other activities. The Titan-Bison basketball game will be the evening's attraction. The following seniors plan to attend: Tony Yaksic, Tressa Fazzolare, Nick Caldararo, Walter Harmon, Dick DeArment, Katy Soldo, Glenn Nelson, William Nelson, Ed Pearson, John Samsa, James Steele.

EX-RULERS PLAN ANNUAL BANQUET

Elks Group Will Dine On February 10 —Lodge Plans Tribute

Past exalted rulers of New Castle's Elks Lodge will gather in the Elk's home for their annual dinner on Wednesday evening, February 10, it was announced today.

That night has also been designated by Exalted Ruler T. Earl Dukes as "Past Exalted Rulers' Night" for the regular lodge meeting. As in the past, the regular officers will open the lodge session and then retire as the past exalted rulers take over the official chairs.

Arrangements for the lodge's celebration of its 50th anniversary next August will be further developed by the former rulers at their dinner.

At an informal dinner not long ago the past exalted chieftains elected Harry Alexander as their new president for 1937. Alexander is in Florida and during his absence Louis G. Genkinger will serve as the presiding officer of the former rulers.

James Boswell was noted as the most famous biographer of Dr. Samuel Johnson.

Review Year's Work Of Society

Decrease In Receipts Curtails Activity Of Lawrence County Society

MANY AIDED TO BETTER HEALTH

Work of the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis Society for the past year is reviewed in the report of Miss Della A. Glenn, secretary of the society showing a worthwhile acomplishment in the society's battle against tuberculosis.

Receipts of the society have not gotten back to pre-depression proportions and as a result, some of the work that the society formerly did has had to be curtailed. However, the society accomplished considerable and aided a number of patients who came to the attention of the society.

The receipts from the 1936 Christmas Seal Sale to date totals $1,804.40 with a slight additional amount yet to come in from letters which were sent out at the start of the campaign just before Christmas.

Miss Glenn's report shows 62 home visits in regard to tuberculosis and 41 investigations in regard to milk, milk being furnished to those suffering with tuberculosis, or who are undernourished, and where the family is unable to provide an adequate amount of this health-giving food.

In addition, 120 half-days were spent at well baby clinics, the first step in taking care of the health of the people of the county. These were at the Reynolds Street Clinic and New Castle Dry Goods Clinic. In addition Miss Glenn assisted at the well baby clinics at Hillsville, conducted by Mrs. Bertha Smith.

A mother and four children from one of the outlying sections was taken to the State Clinic. The father died of tuberculosis a year ago, and the mother and two of the children were found to be suffering with incipient tuberculosis, while one of the girls had developed an active case and is booked for the state sanitorium.

One patient was taken to the Cresson and two were able to go themselves and were sent by train. These patients were provided with proper clothing before they left. X-Rays were taken in 32 cases where tuberculosis was suspected.

The society has made arrangements to take X-Rays in any cases where tuberculosis is suspected and every doctor in Lawrence county has has been informed of this provision.

The society was aided in putting on the Christmas Seal Sale this year by groups from the First Presbyterian church, Ceneral Presbyterian church, St. Mary's church, St. Vitus, the Council of Jewish Women, and West Side Garden club.

Miss Weber Goes To New Position

New Wilmington Girl Assumes Public Relations Post

MARGARET WEBER

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 5.—Miss Margaret Weber, daughter of Mrs. Clara Weber, New Wilmington, has resigned her position at Westminster college to assume her new position as Director of Public Relations at Strayer College, Washington, D. C.

Miss Weber, a graduate of Westminster in the class of 1934, has been assistant director of Public Relations at Westminster College since her graduation, working under W. A. Johns, director of Public Relations.

Strayer college is a school of over 1600 students representing every state in the United States.

Miss Weber has been offered similar positions in several outstanding eastern colleges, but she waited for the vacancy at Strayer college and was successful in face of the keenest competition.

The exceptional record made by Miss Weber in college promotional work has attracted the attention of some of the leading college administrators.

AROUND CITY HALL

Fumes from exhaust pipes of automobiles and other vehicles have a devastating effect on plant life in th parks on the Public Square, according to Joe Alexander, head of the parks department, hence his desire to erect a higher curb or "fence" around the park. The present curb is low and the fumes attack the plants, he declared. Should the council concur with the desires of the Men's Garden club, plans will result in an ornamental stone fence about 18 inches high being erected inside the present curb. Ornamental stone pillars with chains will be strung around and give the place a more inviting appearance. Everyone conversant with conditions at the Public Square gives Owen Fox, city forester, credit for doing the best he can but also realizes that a month's tedious work by one man can be ruined in one minute by one hundred persons tramping down grass, plants and shrubbery. Should the top of the embankment in Croton avenue, along the Neshannock avenue, be improved it will present a very pleasing appearance; likewise a lot of climbing flowers on the Rural avenue hillside.

Dr. William L. Steen, city health officer, has given a report of 1936 health conditions to council, in which he reports the city was remarkably free from communicable illness only 3[illegible] cases, or less than one day, having been reported. He made 252 examinations of city water and 160 analysis of well and spring water and wells and springs found dangerous were closed. Sanitary police made 950 sanitary inspections He said in his report 17,682 tons of garbage were collected and burned and 790 loads of tin cans were hauled away by the garbage department trucks. Dr. Steen said no complaints were made of uplifted garbage.

If he has the right to join a union because it's a free country, has he also the right to refuse to join?

YELLOW SPRINGS

Do you know that the Continental Army camped at Yellow Springs, Chester County, on September 16, 1777?

The army was marching over Glandy's Hill, from Devaut, when due to a heavy rain storm their entire stock of ammunition was destroyed, and they were forced to stay at Yellow Springs.

Devault is located in Chester County on the Yellow Spring road, at the point where that road is intersected by Route 29. The Yellow Spring road runs from Valley Forge to Chester Springs (formerly known as Yellow Springs).

When we think we are longing for the good old days, we are longing for the good old capacity to enjoy things.

POOR COMPLEXIONS OFTEN TRACED TO CONSTIPATION

An unattractive, sallow skin and dull, lifeless eyes often mean that common constipation has clogged up your system. You feel wretched and listless, may have headaches.

This condition is usually the result of meals low in "bulk." Restore this "bulk" with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forms a soft mass, gently exercises and cleanses the system. Isn't this cereal way better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN for a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or fruits, or in recipes. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Three times daily in severe cases. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

State Speakers Address Teachers

Second Session Of Three Day Conference Of District 14 Adult Education And Recreation Convenes

Outstanding speakers featured the second session of a three-day conference of teachers and leaders in district No. 14, Works Progress Administration adult education and recreation program Thursday when about 150 assembled in the Y. W. C. A. of this city, coming from Butler, Beaver, Mercer and Lawrence counties.

Elmer R. Patterson, district supervisor, opened the morning program and introduced the chairman of the day, Rees Flannery of Lawrence county, after which there was a period of group singing with Louis G. Nicol, Jr., Butler county, leading and Elmer R. Patterson at the piano.

Miss Myra deHaven Woodruff, state supervisor of parent education, and Miss Celida Howard, state supervisor of nursery schools, presented a dialogue in which the aims and objectives of nursery schools and parent education were set forth, showing the similarity.

Miss Eleanor Emerson, state supervisor of teacher training, conducted a panel discusion on teacher training, at which time various phases of this subject were discussed by the members of the panel, who were Mrs. Florence Mangus, Lawrence county; Miss Myrtle Agnew, Butler county; Gertrude Mulrow, Mercer county; Nellie Simon, Mercer county; Lillie I. Braham, Lawrence county; Mrs. Ethel Jack, Butler county; Cecelia Papparodis, Beaver county; Leona Whiting, Beaver county, and Enzo Restivo, Lawrence county.

At the close of the morning session the group went to the Green room of the Y. W. for luncheon after which a delightful program was presented with James Sotus acting as master of ceremonies. Mr. Nicol of Butler sang several numbers, with Ruth McClelland at the piano and Leslie Ryder playing a violin accompaniment. Elmer Wynn of Butler county gave a demonstration of tap dancing; William Sinkevich of Butler county played some accordion numbers and Mrs. Leslie Ryder of Butler county gave several humorous readings.

At conclusion of the luncheon period the groups reassembled, the recreation groups going to the gymnasium and the education groups to the auditorium. The recreation seminar was in charge of Thomas Crenney, Lawrence county. A demonstration of "How to Teach and Plan a Dramatic and Stagecraft Group" was splendidly presented by James Sotus and Chester T. McQuaid, Lawrence county. A fencing demonstration was given by George Garmen, Beaver county, and Mr. Crenney demonstrated "How to Teach and Plan a Successful Program for a Recreation Center".

The educational afternoon session opened with Miss Eve Nicklin, Lawrence county, giving a demonstration of "Story Telling for Mothers".

Mr. Patterson then introduced Dr. Earl S. Rudesill, president of Thiel college, who spoke to the group on "Adult Education", giving a history of the movement and various phases of its progress.

The education group then broke into seminars with Robert Nulton of Beaver county leading the literacy group; Francis DeSanctis, Lawrence county, the vocational group; Abe Miller, Beaver county, the avocational group; Mrs. Loretta Feezel, Beaver county, the music group, and Mrs. Flora McCall, Butler county, the parent education and nursery school group.

Mr. Patterson announced that Dr. Harvey R. Salt, Elmer L. Manning, executive WPA recreation division, and Mary Bush Hauck, state supervisor of music of Harrisburg, will be the speakers at the final session of the conference Friday, February 12.

There's an explanation for everything! The bottom crust of restaurant pies are tough purposely. So they won't break in transit from the bakery.

UNION GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves of Union high school had a regular meeting in the gymnasium of the school Thursday afternoon. It was called to order by the president, Ruth Buchanan, and was opened by a song, "I Think When I Read That Sweet Story of Old," by Ruth Reynolds and Katherine Todd.

Wanda Thatcher, secretary, gave her report and called the roll. Ruth Raney announced a skating party, and Miss Dorothy Stewart of the Y. W. C. A., made an announcement concerning the making of tabs for checking of wraps at the convention of Girl Reserves to be held in New Castle February 26, 27 and 28.

Mr. Duff in turn announced that Jack Pattison, Rod Edwards, Chester Gierlach, Russell Bowers and Marsh Miller, made up the brass quintet, would play a selection followed by additional numbers by Dorothy Abbott, Bob McKinney and Helen Zagabel, cello, violin and piano trio. WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Flood Control Instills Fear

Power Companies Afraid It Will Mean Hydro-Electric Dams In Addition

MUCH LOST IN RECENT FLOOD

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5—The curious argument again is heard that disasters like floods have at least one compensatory feature:

Work is made for many hands effecting repairs.

To all economists this reasoning gives an acute pain.

Their contention is that a community which has accumulated a certain amount of wealth, only to see it wiped out by flood, fire, earthquake or some other catastrophe, is just that much poorer. It is as if an individual saved his money until he had a substantial nestegg and then had it "go bad" on him suddenly; he might toil and save again until he had as good a nestegg or a better one than he had before, but he never would consider that he was better off for what he previously had lost.

TEMPORARY STIMULATION

It is true that sales are said to have been stimulated temporarily in unafflicted neighborhoods which border on the inundated areas.

Naturally. The floc ed folk, with their own supplies water-logged, have turned to the nearest supplemental sources. These latter perhaps could have scooped in big returns momentarily, had they been greedy. From all accounts, very few merchants tried to profiteer—highly creditable.

Even outright looting, from army accounts, seems not to have been bad—and some of the looters probably did not so regard themselves; they were in distress and took what they needed in the emergency.

REAL "MALEFACTORS"

Indeed, there are anti-flood experts who speak in more bitter terms of big interests which, they assert, for selfish reasons oppose measures of genuine flood prevention.

These anti-flood folk insist on a system of upland dams.

Some want little dams, across rivulets; some want huge reservoirs.

In either case they promise the development of a deal of hydro-electric power. It almost necessarily will be public. Power folk do not like that idea.

Little dams, in a way, are more threatening to them than big ones.

SMALL DAMS POTENT

Power generated, say, by TVA, oozes out along the wires.

It is formidable at the Norris dam, but has no such potency at a distance, north, south, east or west.

A small local dam, however, can provide for everything within its territory.

And these small local plants can hook up and cover their whole collective territories.

POWER INTERESTS OPPOSED

The flood controllers I have met are mostly army men.

They want to CONTROL FLOODS.

Some believe in big dams; some in little ones.

But I am sure they are all interested in the one desire—to prevent floods.

Private interests, I am convinced, while opposed to floods, are opposed to them if—

If they do not ultimately prejudice private power.

I believe the private interests involved would rather have floods (or anything) than risk having "power" governmentalized.

And real flood control means governmentalized power.

PRIVATE POWER'S FEAR

That is to say, governmentalized power simply would swamp the private kind.

It would not be intentional; it naturally would follow.

That I what I think private power fears.

Scout Week Will Start Saturday

Scouts To Wear Uniforms During Entire Week To Aid Impressiveness

One of the best planned, and what promises to be the most successful of scouts weeks, will start Saturday morning with a "bang". From Saturday, February 6, until Saturday, February 13, Boy Scouts in this vicintiy will have many engagements and a busy time in their scout activities.

A separate program has been carefully planned for each day of the week, and according to R. F. Davis, chairman of the program committee, everything is in readiness for a gala week.

Scout Week will begin at 10 o'clock Sautrday morning, when the scouts in the local district will be guests of M. D. Cohn, manager of the Penn theatre. Mr. Cohn has scheduled the showing of a special picture, of special interest to the scouts for this time.

Scouts will wear their uniforms to this show, and to add to the effect of the week, the boys will put aside their civilian clothing and wear nothing but scout togs throughout the entire week.

EXPENSIVE SEEDS

CHEHALIS, Wash.—The production of field seeds became important part of the agricultural program in Lewis county during 1936, bringing in about $37,000 in revenue during the year. The largest single sum was paid for red clover seed, which brought in about $24,000 for nearly 60 tons.

Your Income Tax In A Nutshell

EXEMPTION ALLOWED HEAD OF A FAMILY

A head of a family is defined by income-tax regulations as "an individual who actually supports and maintains in one household one or more persons who are closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or by adoption, and whose right to exercise family control and provide for these dependent individuals is based upon some moral or legal bligation." The exemption allowed a head of a family is $2,500. The phrase "in one household" may be interpreted as meaning the taxpayer's personal residence, an apartment, rooms in a boarding house, hotel, etc.

Under certain circumstances it is not necassary that the taxpayer and his dependents live under one roof during the entire taxable year in order that the taxpayer may be allowed the exemption. If the common home is maintained and the parent is away on business or a child is away at school or on a visit, the exemption is allowable. Moreover, if a parent is obliged to maintain his dependent children with relatives or in a boarding house, while he lives elsewhere, the exemption still applies. If, however, without necessity, the dependent makes his home elsewhere, the benefactor is not the head of a family.

The same rule is applicable to the term "living together" in the case of a husband and wife. If occasionally and temporarily the husband is away on business or the wife on a visit, the common home being maintained, the $2,500 exemption still applies. The unavoidable absence of husband or wife at a sanatorium does not preclude the exemption. But if the husband continuously makes his home at one place and the wife at another, they are not living together within the meaning of the revenue act.

McCoy Class Has Meeting Thursday

Methodist Church Group Meet At West Madison Avenue Home On Thursday Evening

On Thursday evening members of the McCoy Bible class of the Mahoning M. E. church spent an enjoyable evening as the guests of Mrs. W. E. Weitz as she entertained at her home on West Madison avenue.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Paul Kinsey. The president, Mrs. Emma Moss, presided over the business session, during which plans were discussed for their play which they will sponsor in the near future. It was also decided to give a donation of five dollars to the Red Cross for the flood relief.

Later in the evening the guests were invited to the dining room, where covers were laid for eleven at an attractively decorated table, centered with a bowl of colorful flowers. A tempting lunch was served by the hostess, aided by Co-hostess Mrs. Harriet Steen.

The next regular meeting will be on Thursday, March 4, the place to be announced later.

AUXILIARY DINNER

A YEAR FROM TODAY...

. . . will her hands be as lovely?

Yes—her hands will stay smooth and white—in spite of dishwashing—if she's wise enough to use Ivory Soap for dishes.

Did you know that it actually costs you less to wash dishes with pure gentle Ivory than with ordinary washday chips and powders! So doesn't it actually seem extravagant to lose the youth and the prettiness of your hands in the dishpan?

Ivory Soap is used in more homes in America than any other soap . . . why don't you try it for dishwashing—it keeps even a baby's skin smooth, and it will do as much for your hands. Ask for the economical "Large Size"—it's the practical size for every soap-and-water task.

Organize To Aid H. S. Band

Citizens Take Steps To Launch Campaign For School Musicians

NEW [illegible] TO BE FIRST GOAL

Meeting in the Senior high school Thursday night, February 4, a group of interested citizens took steps towards some form of permanent backing for the Senior high school orchestra and band. The immediate plans of the organization will be to provide new uniforms and some new instruments for the band.

This was not the first meeting. At previous meetings several plans were discussed and it was finally decided to form a Senior High School Band and Orchestra Council. In order to have the organization on a proper footing, School Board Solicitor William J. Moffatt was asked to prepare a resolution which will be presented to the board next Wednesday night.

Provides Organization

This resolution, if passed by the board, will provide officially for the new council, provide how the money raised is to be cared for and will make the council a lay unit of the school system something like the Athletic Council.

The immediate purpose of the group is to conduct a campaign for money to provide new uniforms for the high school band and to replace a number of the instruments which are nearly worn out.

This campaign committee which will serve only for the campaign, was formed Thursday night with the following officers and members: Honorary president, Mrs. Percy L. Craig; president, Alex Samuels; vice president, Richard Rentz; secretary, Joseph Replogle; campaign treasurer, Alfred Owens; campaign manager, Robert L. Merrmans.

Members of the campaign committee are Alex Samuels, Jake Rentz, Fred Butz, Charles Walther, Dr. W. Fulton Jackson, Herbert A. Christman, Ray F. Hall, Joseph Donati, Joseph R. McFate, Leonard Cramer, Wesley Davy, Maurice Markley, Howard Kirk, Jr., C. L. Shira, E. D. Marvin, Glenn Anderson, Richard Rentz, Louis B. Round, Carl Paisley, Bart Richards, Griff Thomas, Edwin Raney, Guy J. Wadlinger, Alfred Owens, Lester L. Weitzel, Robert L. Meermans, Alex Thomas, Daniel H. Treloar, Charles McGrath, J. Myron Rice, S. D. Pearson, W. Walter Duff.

Next Eucharistic Congress Will Be Held At Budapest

(International News Service)

MANILA, P. I., Feb. 5.—The next International Eucharistic Congress will be held at Budapest, probably in the summer of 1938, it was learned today.

Father Joseph Boubee, secretary of the permanent congress committee, will make the formal announcement Sunday evening during final ceremonies of the thirty-third congress here, first to be held in Asia.

Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, of Philadelphia, papal legate, said the first mass today in the newly built chapel at Malacanang Palace, home of President Manuel Quezon, whose wife left a sick bed to attend the services.

Record-breaking crowds of devout worshippers, which on several occasions since the congress opened, Feb. 3, have exceeded 110,000, continued today to attend the impressive devotions.

More than 100,000 men, a number equaling the crowd of women at the women's day mass yesterday, held a midnight mass early today in Luneta Park. A similarly large number attended the international assembly tonight at which benediction was given by the papal legate.

Jesus The Light Of The World

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Feb. 7 is the seventh, eighth and ninth chapters of John, especially John 8:12, 31, 32; 9:1-11, the Golden Text being John 8:12, "I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life.")

To a world in hunger Christ came saying, "I am the bread of life"; in its darkness of spiritual blindness, "I am the light of the world"; to one to whom the door of spiritual fellowship had been closed by unwarranted excommunication, "I am the door"; to people at the mercy of false shepherds, "I am the good shepherd"; to friends bereaved by death, "I am the resurrection and the life"; to disciples troubled about the hereafter, "I am the way, the truth and the life"; to followers doubtful of their fruitfulness, "I am the vine, ye are the branches." Whatever our need, Jesus is its abundant supply.

"I Am the Light of the World"

They were celebrating the Feast of Tabernacles. It was an annual pageant dramatizing the history of their ancestors' wandering in the wilderness. So for a week the people lived in tents and booths of branches as their fathers had for 40 years. In the wilderness wanderings God gave their fathers water from a rock smitten by Moses' rod. Here Jesus claimed that rock represented him, saying, "If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, from within him shall flow rivers of living water." God had guided their fathers through their wilderness wanderings by a pillar of fire which was their light by night. This, too, as well as the smitten rock, was a type and foreshadowing of Christ: "Again therefore Jesus spake unto them saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life."

The Darkness He Came to Lighten

How much the world of darkness needed Jesus as its Light! Those closest to him in his own family were in darkness regarding him and his mission to the world: "For even his brethren did not believe on him." Even greater was the willful blindness of the spiritual leaders who were even then, six months before the crucifixion, seeking to kill Jesus. The people suspected it saying, "Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ?" That they did actually know, and therefore were willfully rejecting the light, is evident from Christ's severe condemnation. "Ye both know me, and know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not." The reason they were rejecting him was because they were deliberately planning to extinguish the light of truth. So Jesus said to those who were still open-minded, "If ye abide in my word, then are ye truly my disciples; and we shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." The willful blindness of his murderous opponents he explained, saying, "Ye are of your father the devil . . . for this cause ye hear not, because ye are not of God."

Healing the Blind

As proof of his right to claim to be the light of the world, Jesus thereupon healed a man born blind, saying, "When I am in the world I am the light of the world." But despite this amazing proof and the man's testimony, "One thing I know, that whereas I was blind, now I see," they excommunicated the man. Thus they brought on themselves Christ's judgment, "Your sin remaineth."

The Golden Text

John 8:12—"I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life."

NAVAL NOTES

By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

One of the many services rendered by the U. S. Navy is illustrated by the following: recently a submarine attached to the Asiastic fleet, was making a trip from Tsingtoa, China to Chinwangtao, China. About midway between the two ports, the ship submerged for a two hour torpedo practice, and upon returning to the surface after the practice, the submarine was within a few yards of an overturned fishing vessel. Investigation by the boarding party revealed that the vessel had been drifting for several days, the food supply was exhausted, and several of the crew dead from exposure. The survivors were removed and taken to Chinwangtao.

An ornamental brass Buddah on the submarine was sighted by the Chinese, and they stood before it for several hours kowtowing and offering their thanks to the gods for their rescue. Before disembarking at Chinwangtao, they kneeled before each member of the crew, kissed their feet and cried with joy, thus dispelling the rumor that Chinese are ungrateful under any and all conditions.

DID YOU KNOW—That the pay of an enlisted man in the United States Navy is automatically increased by 70 per cent after his first four months in the service and that merchant vessels of all nations when passing a man-of-war, salute the latter by dipping the national ensign. The man-o'-war returns the salute "dip for dip." More men are being enlisted in the naval service from the state of Iowa than any other in the country.

COMING
To End RUPTURE Troubles
Mr. F. S. Horn, representative of Wm. H. Horn & Bro. Inc., Philadelphia, Truss manufacturers, will be personally at the New Castle Drug Co., 24 N. Mill St., Saturday, February 6, from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. to give a demonstration of his method to all sufferers who want to end rupture trouble.
No matter how bad the rupture, how long you have had it, or how hard to hold; no matter how many kinds of trusses you have worn. Whether you are tall and thin, short and stout, have a large abdomen, whether you think you are past help or have a rupture as large as your fists, this marvelous method will so control and keep it up inside as to surprise you. It will so restore the parts where the rupture comes through that soon you will be as free to work at any occupation as though you had never been ruptured.
For the lady callers a woman expert, thoroughly trained, will assist in the demonstrations.
You owe it to your own personal comfort and safety not to miss this great demonstration. It is a real opportunity to learn how you may be done with chaffing trusses and the danger, suffering and trouble your rupture has caused.

Tourists Invade Sneedville, Tenn., To See Girl Bride

Young Nine-Year-Old Bride Is Very Unhappy, Wishes That Curious Folks Would Go Away

(International News Service)

SNEEDVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 5—Tourists crowded this little mountain community today, hoping to catch a glimpse of the sequestered nine year old bride, Eunice Winstead Johns.

Neighbors, however, incensed over the invasion of their seclusion, rallied to the aid of the groom, Charlie Johns, 22 and were trying to keep the curious at a distance, while the girl-bride spent most of her time inside her home.

Relatives declared that she was not used to being "cooped up" and hoped that visitors would go away so that she could run around in the woods as she liked.

"All this nonsense is driving my daughter out of her mind," Eunice's mother said, "and we're not going to stand for it. We're going to law, if people dont quit coming here to stare at us."

According to R. F. Davis, Boy Scout commissioner, winners in the "Plainsman" contest will be announced shortly after February 15, which is the date now set for the close of the contest. Through this contest, some boy in the local district may receive a trip to the National Scout Jamboree in Washington, D. C., free of charge with all expenses paid.

In addition to the Washington trip, which is the national award, a number of local prizes will be awarded to the boys winning in this district. These awards will be given to the scouts who write the best essays of 100 words or more on the motion picture, "The Plainsman."

Nazi Newspaper Says Open Revolt Flares In Moscow

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Feb. 5—What was termed an "open revolt" against dictator Josef Stalin in Moscow was splashed across the front page of the official Nazi newspaper Der Angriff today.

The newspaper declared fifteen persons were killed and forty wounded in a series of clashes between special GPU troops and hundreds of anti-Stalin students shouting "down with Stalin."

The disorders occurred after a secret mass meeting of students in a Moscow hall, the paper declared.

Following the meeting, the students streamed into the workers' suburbs where they allegedly attempted to incite laborers against the Stalin regime.

Flint Motor Strikers Get Out of Hand

Picketers of the General Motors plants in Flint, Mich., angered by delay in negotiations between the corporation and the United Automobile Workers of America, stormed Chevrolet Plant No. 9 in that city and shattered the windows nearest the street before tear gas, hurled by police, cleared the streets. This graphic picture from Pathe News shows the strikers in the midst of their assault on the plant. (Central Press)

Relief Totals About Stationary

Little change is seen in the relief load of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief Board, according to James W. Moorhead, executive secretary. For the past four or five months the load has been practically stationary at about 1000 cases. New cases added are usualy levelled off by the withdrawals.

Should the Goodrich report recently handed to Governor George H. Earle be approved and enabling legislation passed by the General Assembly, the load of the local relief board would be increased. This would place all the county cases, and the various assistance boards under the supervision of the relief board.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. — New York state shouldn't feel so badly by having a 12-year-old bride, nor Tennessee, either, with its nine-year-old housewife ,the American Youth Commission said today.

Of 6,642 women under 24 interviewed, 2,216 were married and 2,216 gave their age at their marriage. Of these, one-third, or 732 were married when they were 17 and 403 at 18.

Yankees Having Holdout Trouble

Fail To Get Lou Gehrig Signed Up, Wants Salary $31,000 Or More

Lefty Gomez, Jake Powell And Tony Lazerri Also Want More Dough For 1937

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 5—With an elaborate waste of everybody's time including its own, the National league will solemnly ratify its 1937 schedule this afternoon, and even go so far as to take a formal vote on it—just in case. But the story in baseball today is not in the National League at all but in the New York Yankees, who won a pennant last year by 19½ game and the world series by four games to two and currently have one regular, pitcher Bump Hadley, signed to a contract.

Four Unsigned

If the writer would draw an invidious comparison, and he most certainly will if you give him a chance, he would point to the New York Giants, which lost the world series by two games to four and currently have only four regulars unsigned, Carl Hubbell, a great left hander, was publicly prepared to be obdurate, even if he had to hire window space at Saks-Fifth avenue.

But he signed his contract and got it back here by the first mail. Good as he knows he is, he probably thought it was a typographical error. The Giants, incidentally, have no idea whether they'll finish first or fifth this year, but they're going to run a payroll of $175,000 just on the off-chance that it may be all in fun, anyway.

Yanks Confident

The Yanks feel certain that they'll repeat not only this year but the next, and I'm sure I'm exposing nobody's hole-card when I say they not only have a great deal of money but have taken more out of baseball than any other club in the major leagues. But, in spite of all the drum beating on behalf of poor, old Jake and his unjustly celebrated check book, the club's payroll won't top $200,000 this time—and most of the difference between the Giants and Yankees figures is vested in two men, Gehrig and Manager McCarthy.

The latter draws $35,000 as against Terry's $27,500. Gehrig got $31,000 last year, as against not more than an $8,000 investment in the Giant first baseman of next season, who ever he may be.

Owners Are Right

Of all the Yankee holdouts, I'd say the club was right only about a few. It's right about Gomez, who drew twenty thousand and wasn't worth ten; it's right about Jake Powell, who wants $14,000 for a great world series and a mediocore season and it's probably right about Tony Lazzeri, who started 1936 without any expectations of finishing and whose life-expectancy now must, therefore, be so much less.

It's probably even right about Gehrig, who isn't worth more than $31,000 to anybody, except the club that now has him. They positively can't start without him which, on the law of supply and demand makes his general value not a great deal less than that of a rung to the average step ladder.

MARCELLO WAS CAPTAIN

Jack Marcello was captain of the 1912 I. A. A. team, according to T. C. Richards. Clubs organized to beat them. The Eagles organized a team and it required 13 innings before the I. A. A. won 7-6. It was played on the Simpson field. With the game tied in the sixth, Luby Richards singled and Joe Chill scored him with a triple. Gering pitched for the Eagles, Young for the I. A. A. In 1912, at New Wilmington, Young pitched for the I. A. A. against New Wilmington and the latter lost 4 to 1. Young held New Wilmington to two hits. On the winner's team were Felasco, J. Marcello, L. Richards, D. Bullano, L. Builano, George, J. Chill, S. Ross, F. Marcello, Young and D. Ross, and New Wilmington: D. Cummings, McCreary, H. Cummings, Pete Porter, T. Bessemer Set For Mt. Jackson Cagers

Mt. Jackson dominates the class B basketball spotlight this evening where Bessemer high, section 21 leader, opposes Mt. Jackson high in an important battle.

The Mt. Jackson passers would like nothing better than defeating Bessemer. The Cement City lads will have to win in order to keep up the section pace as Wampum is right up in the thick of the battle for honors.

Tubers Want Revenge For Setback At Ellwood City, New Castle Team Crippled

FIRST GAME TO START AT 7 P. M.

New Castle high school basketball team will entertain the Ellwood City high floor team in a Section Three encounter at the George Washington high gym tonight. The reserves of both schools will play the preliminary game at 7 o'clock. As an added attraction several of the Ellwood City high tumblers will put on an exhibition between halves of the main game.

The Red and Blacks after two straight setbacks in Section Three at the hands of New Brighton and Ambridge, hope to snap out of it tonight and take the Ellwood City Tubers. The Ellwood City boys want a little revenge for the setback at the Ellwood floor earlier in the year.

Ryglinski May Start

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh will probably start Carey and Koszela at the forwards tonight, unless Eddie "Bus" Strausbaugh is in shape to play and if he is, he will start no doubt. Nocera will be at the jumping post and Adams and Small will hold down the guards. There is a possibility that Ryglinski will get the center spot and this will shift the valuable scoring Nocera back to a forward job.

The other sectional battles for tonight will send Aliquippa to Beaver Falls for a tussle. The league leaders should win this one handily. The Ambridge team fresh from their 31 to 19 taking of New Castle will be at Butler. This is a toss up.

Following are the probable lineups:

New Castle—		Ellwood City—
Carey	F	Jones
Koszela or
Nocera	F	Houserman
Ryglinski or
Nocera	C	Cunningham
Adams	G	Pishioneri
Small	G	Mack

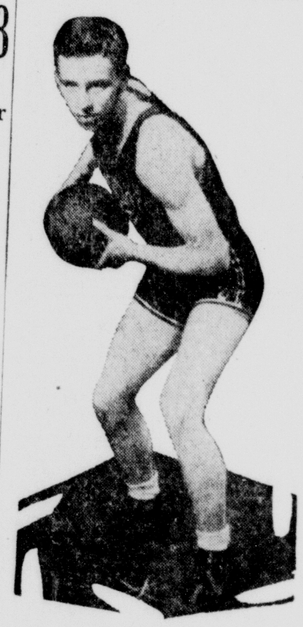
Stars To Clash When Titans-Bethany Meet



JACK BALDWIN

JOHN KRIVOSH

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 5.—Two great Tri-State district guards will meet Saturday night at New Wilmington, when the Bethany Bisons for the second time play Coach George Roark's Titans. The Titans will be out to tan the West Virginians because of a recent defeat on the Bethany court, 44-34, the first loss of the season for Westminster.

In John "Chink" Krivosh, Coach Roark has one of the best guards who ever played for the Titans; and in Captain Jack Baldwin, Bethany has a consistent scorer and an excellent defensive guard. Krivosh, who went bucketless in the Pitt game Wednesday night, is due for a reversal in form; and may prove doubly dangerous to the Knightmen.

The Bethany-Westminster game will be prefaced with a freshman contest at 7:30, to be followed by the varsity tilt at 8:15. Coach Roark, a former Bethany graduate, is anxious to annex the game because of drubbings in both football and basketball during the past year.

New Brighton Boy Starring In Titan Teams

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 5.—Only in rare cases does a college freshman make a varsity letter in two leading sports; but that is the record that Mel Miller, New Brighton freshman, is hanging up at Westminster college.

Miller played for four years at New Brighton high school under Coach George Roark; and this year followed Coach Roark to Westminster. He was outstanding at end on the Titan football team during the entire season, paired with Grubb at the other end. His defensive play was skillful and featured by hard, effective line play. On the offense, he proved to be an excellent pass receiver.

Miller was one of four freshmen to win a football numeral, the others including Laposki, New Brighton; Youkers, Butler; and Holton, Pittsburgh.

At present, he is "sixth man" on Coach Roark's Titan basketball five; and has played in all of the eight games of this season. On the floor, he is rugged, and has the heighth and endurance to play against seasoned players. Although he has not done much scoring this season, he has proved dangerous on long shots. In scoring, he stands fifth on the squad, with nineteen points made in seven scoring-games.

In competition with even varsity men, Miller's showing has been far above average in both basketball and football.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

The Waynesburg Yelow Jackets, paced by Forward Mercer Clark, piled up a first-half lead which left West Virginia Wesleyan on the tail end of a basketball game at Waynesburg last night. The score was 36 to 27. Clark sfcored 11 points, running up his total for 14 games to 178, the highest in the tri-state college ranks. The Bobcats were held to one field goal up to the final two minutes of the first half. In the second period Barnum and Herndon enabled them to keep up with the Jackets, but they could not overcome the lead. At Washington, D. C., Catholic U rallied and defeated Geneva 33 to 30. The Cardinals jumped off to a 4 to 0 lead and won the first half 16 to 15. The Geneva basketeers forged ahead in the second half 19 to 16 and the Catholics deadlocked the score at 22-all. Geneva again forged into the lead but in the final minutes of the game Catholic U won out. Glenville Teachers won from Davis-Elkins at Elkins, W. Va., 61 to 46.

President James R. Angell of Yale yesterday at New Haven asserted he is "obliged to believe" the practices of recruiting high school athletes for college teams and of paying college players for their services are extremely common and extremely pernicious." He said the frank defense of subsidizing athletes, now so frequently heard, even by college representatives, reflects either a counsel of despair or a divergence of ideals and standards so fundamental that general agreement is not to be hoped for. He recommended that each institution "cultivate athletic relations only with those whose views and practices substantially coincide with its own."

World's Track Stars Gather

Track Stars Of Entire World Will Participate In Millrose Games At New York Saturday

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK Feb. 5—Although Niklos Szabo, the Hungarian Olympian, has withdrawn from the Wanamaker mile because of an attack of influenza, removing the one international threat from the feature event, some of the world's greatest track and field athletes will gather in Madison Square Garden Saturday night for the Millrose games with record-cracking performances and a capacity crowd almost assured.

In fact, the games already have been announced as a sellout with tickets at a premium as athletes converge on New York for one of the historic fixtures of indoor track and field competition.

With Szabo out, the feature mile event will rest on the efforts of the fleetest among Glenn Cunningham, Archie San Romani, Don Lash and Gene Venzke, among others.

Many Champions

While this will be the outstanding event on the evening's program there also will be a pole vault worthy of more than passing interest, the competition to be waged among Earl Meadows, the Olympic champion; George Varoff, the world record holder and Sueo Ohe, the Japanese champion who finished in a tie for second behind Meadows in the Olympic games.

The entry list for the games includes three Olympic champions, 15 national or national collegiate titleholders, nine indoor record-holders, seven outdoor record-holders and representatives of 46 colleges from 24 states.

Louis-Braddock Bout Scheduled For Chicago Park

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Except for the formal rigamarole of taking pictures of Joe Louis and Jimmy Braddock squiggling their signatures to the contracts, their titular bout was set today.

June 22 is the date, White Sox Park the site.

The chief obstacle to a championship bout in Chicago, Max Schmeling's contract for a title fight with Braddock to be promoted by Madison Square Garden in New York June 3, was easily disposed of. It was just ignored.

Mike Jacobs, who holds a five year contract on Louis' services, delivered the signed contracts for the bout to the Sporting Club of Illinois, the promoting organization, yesterday.

Jacobs also holds a contract on Schmeling's services, and Max is on his cuff for $31,000, but he seemed unperturbed by the Schmeling-Madison Square Garden angle.

Gould-Braddock Going To Chicago

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Joe Gould, manager of Heavyweight Champion James J. Braddock, confirmed today that he and Braddock would go to Chicago on Monday to sign articles for a title fight with Joe Louis.

Gould said he was unconcerned about possible legal action growing out of his decision not to go through with his contract for a fight here on June 3 between Braddock and Max Schmeling.

"I don't know much about the legal situation," Gould said, "but I would think that in a case like this, in the event there is any action in the courts, the courts will leave it up to the boxing commissions. When the Illinois authorities okay this match, it will be up to them to see that it is staged as scheduled."

Return Bout Between This Pair Promises To Be Slam-Bang Affair

Both Ettore And Lewis Confident Of Knockouts In Coming Battle

By WILLIAM G. WEART
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—The third man in the ring for the return 15-round fight between John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, and Al Ettore, the Philadelphia heavyweight contender, at the arena here Monday night isn't going to be troubled by having to render a decision.

That's the impression one gathers today after consulting the pugilists, now winding up their training in "the pink of condition." Each claims he'll stretch the other out cold, which may mean, and he gives no assurance, that one of them is due to be knocked out.

Ettore Talks

The encore between Lewis and Ettore was arranged to settle the outcry that arose when the blond Italian won the referee's nod over the Pittsburgh Negro last January 4 after the judges disagreed at the end of 10 rounds. The state athletic commission, taking cognizance of the cries of "robbery, reversed the decision to a draw by a two-to-one votes.

"I'll chase Lewis right out of the ring," declared Ettore, who was known as pugnacious "Crowder" Ettore until he crowded into two of Joe "The Bomber" Louis' lefts last September at the Philadelphia municipal stadium.

"There won't be any chance for the boxing commission to reverse the decision on me this time," asserted the Philadelphian, whose fondest dream is a return bout with Joe Louis. He won't be able even to hope for that fight unless he decisively defeats the light-heavyweight king.

Lewis Confident

"He's not going to do that," commented Lewis upon his arrival here to complete his training. Lewis added:

"I'll knock him out this time."

Lewis is convinced a victory over Ettore will earn him a crack at the "Brown Bomber." He also is certain he can defeat Joe Louis and snatch the heavyweight championship by taking Jimmy Braddock.

"I saw that fight last week," the light-heavyweight titleholder said. "I sure wished I was in the ring that night. It wouldn't have mattered whether it was Louis or Pastor I was facing, because I could have licked either of the two."

Mrs. Nolan Makes Splendid Showing

Unfortunate In Being Paired With Champion In Opening Round Of Elimination

Although she was eliminated on Wednesday in her match with Patty Berg of Minneapolis, who is the tops as far as women golfers are concerned, Mrs. Frieda Nolan of this city made a splendid showing in the Miami-Biltmore women's golf tournament, the finals of which are now under way at Coral Gables, Fla.

Mrs. Nolan was in the first 16 in the qualifying round, over a hundred of the leading women golfers of the country participating. She was unfortunate in being stacked up against the defending champion, who shot the same kind of golf as last year when she won the title, and who was medalist in the qualifying round.

Have been doing a little loc'ng around this week and the old town is just boi'ing with the spirit of "help your neighbor"...Tonight will present the biggest party that New Castle has ever seen...We know that the people will turn out and help make the quota.

Hobbies are hobbies but they to can go too far...the man or boy who collects stamps or coins can carry his hobby too far by spending money that is needed to keep his family...he might go so far as driving his family crazy by his continued chatter on the subject ...Then we find the young lady who collects china dogs and elephants . . . she to might carry the hobby too far by making her husband or sweetheart buy every one she sees...but the most exhausting hobby is the one I am most familiar with...co'lecting live animals...not a variety of kinds but one certain kind...saddle horses...just think talking horse all your spare time...your vacation is spent looking and attending horse shows...the mantel piece is covered with miniature horses...(he sort of side tracks here a little by collecting miniatures)...your clothes smell of horse and you are tired and ready to drop after an all-day ride...every spare cent is spent on a new bridal, head band or curb chain...that is the kind of life I was raised in and living now...do you think I enjoy talking horse, seeing horses and riding horses all my spare time?...let me tell you brother, there is nothing I like better.

Last night I gave a little receipt for fish...some of my friends thought that I was trying to fool them...Orville Potter said he didn't like the dish...come on Mr. Coroner and try a meal with said menu...E. J. King, star salesman and etc....how about having your chef cook you up a mess of this wonderful dish...have some of your friends out for dinner.

Irregular Prices Prevail In Market As General Motors Conferences Are Resumed

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Irregular price trends again were the rule in the stock market today, as conferences continued at Detroit between General Motors and C. I. O. officials in an effort to settle the long-drawn strike. Gains were in the majority, however.

Chrysler later chalked up a gain of a point, while U. S. Steel moved up a small fraction, but General Motors and Bethlehem held below last night's final quotations.

Rails and aviations were leaders on the upside, Boeing spurting almost two points into new high ground with Douglas Aircraft advancing nearly as much. Southern Railway preferred featured in the carriers on a jump of 2½ points to a new top at 57.

Weakness in Baldwin common and assented shares, reflecting the unfavorable terms for these under the reorganization plan approved late yesterday, was an early feature. The common slumped almost two points to 8⅜ and the assented one to 7½ before support was met. This was in contrast to gains of as much as 49 points in the bonds on the curb.

Oils, coppers and electrical equipments were generally firm and moderately active. Utilities and amusements were mixed. Electric & Musical Industries and Reo Motor were low-priced favorites. American Can again drifted into new low ground.

Bonds were quiet and mostly improved. Grains were up as much as a cent a bushel. Cotton eased.

CONGRESS GIVEN SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT

should have the power to appoint an additional judge to that bench to lighten the burdens of the ageing justice.

If the law he proposed were to be immediately enacted by the congress it would permit the appointment of six additional supreme court justices as of today, for a majority of the court are now past the 70-year mark. The draft of his proposed bill provided, however, that in no case should the personnel of the supreme court exceed fifteen members.

Under certain conditions, the number of judges might be twelve or fourteen, dependent upon ages, retirements, and other conditions.

There are some twenty-five lower federal judges who are now past the retirement age and still functioning, the president said, and under his plan if they elected to remain on the bench then additional judges could be appointed to assist them.

Chief Justice To Command

Moreover, the chief justice of the supreme court would be empowered by the proposed legislation to assign justices to particular districts where the dockets were congested, and where speedy federal justice is endangered because of that or other reasons. The chief justice, in effect, would become the commanding judicial officer of a mobile force of federal judges that could be assigned anywhere.

In order to speed up the determination of the constitutionality of legislation, Mr. Roosevelt proposed that district federal courts be required to notify the attorney general when the operation of a law is challenged through the injunction process, and that where a district court holds a particular law to be unconstitutional the case shall be routed immediately to the supreme court for speedy determination. Thereby, he thought, much of the delay such as was encountered in the determination of the constitutionality of some new deal acts (like the NRA and the AAA) could be avoided.

The proposal that for each judge beyond the retirement age who elected to remain on the bench the president be permitted to appoint an additional or assistant judge is not, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, precisely a new one. He recalled that Attorney General McReynolds, early in the Wilson administration, recommended the same thing as applied to district and appellate judges. Incidentally, McReynolds is now an associate justice of the supreme court, and yesterday he celebrated his 75th birthday. He has been one of the outstanding foes of new deal legislation.

The president emphasized that no question of constitutional procedure or constitutional amendment is involved in his recommendations. Congress has within its own powers the remedy, he said.

Recommendations

Mr. Roosevelt summed up his own recommendations in these words:

"First to eliminate congestion of calendars and to make the judiciary as a whole less static by the constant and systematic addition of new blood to its personnel,

"Second to make the judiciary more elastic by providing for temporary transfer of circuit and district judges to those places where federal courts are most in arrears,

"Third to furnish the supreme court practical assistance in supervising the conduct of business in the lower courts, and

"Fourth to eliminate inequality, uncertainty and delay now existing in the determination of constitutional questions involving federal statutes."

"My desire," he concluded, "is to strengthen the administration of justice and make it a more effective servant of the public need."

Firemen Given Appropriation By Borough Council

Discuss Telephone Plan For New City Building At Monthly Session Thursday

SOUND CONTROL ORDINANCE PASSED

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 5.—Ellwood City volunteer fire department received its annual appropriation of $200 for necessary expenses from the borough council at its monthly meeting in the city building Thursday night. The appropriation was made following a written request from Secretary Red Garwig of the fire department. This matter had been previously overlooked by council which immediately and unanimously passed it.

A representative of the Bell Telephone company was present and explained the switch board and dial systems of telephones for use in the new municipal building. After the explanation and a discussion council requested the chairman to appoint a committee to go thoroughly into the matter and report back to council.

To Attend Convention.

After the reading of a communication from Harrisburg council moved to send Borough Manager Lowell W. Monroe, President A. J. Howell and Borough Solicitor J. W. Humphrey to the 27th annual Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs convention to be held Feb. 16-18 at Harrisburg. The local representatives were urged to strongly oppose the ten mill minimum tax proposal.

An ordinance indorsed by Councilman Clyde Hill controlling and regulating the reproduction of sound by loud speakers, phonographs, etc., on public highways and borough streets, was passed by council at its first reading. This also does away with the unnecessary blowing of auto horns, or other instruments that cause a public nuisance. The burgess will be in charge of issuing licenses for this and will determine if they create a nuisance.

The license will be for not more than ten days at $5 per day, and from the hours of 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. Unnecessary noise must not be reproduced near the schools, hospitals, churches or streets designated by the Burgess. The penalty for each offense is $10 and costs or confined in the borough lock-up or county jail for a period not to exceed ten days.

Plants To Expand

Council suspended its rules for two resolutions. Upon petition of the property owners of the northern portion of Tenth street owned by the Mathews Conveyor Company and Ellwood City Forge company, who wished to vacate a portion of that street so that the former company could build a 125 feet addition to the plant and have a joint use of the railroad with the latter. Council was given complete control of the vacated portion to maintain for storm, sewer, gas, water lines, etc. The rules were suspended and the petition was passed on first and final reading.

Another resolution on a change order for the municipal building was passed in a similar manner. It changed the manner of the treatment to floors and brought on an addition expense of $268 of which the Federal government is to pay 45 per cent. The special building committee recommended that this be made a part of the Borough records.

A short time after the Mississippi broke through the secondary levee at Bessie, Tenn., this home, in the direct line of the flood, was inundated and eventually carried away. The same current that bore this house away menaced the levees south of New Madrid, Mo.

GIRL SHOWS WAY TO PSYCHOLOGIST

(By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Thoughts while strolling: Overheard—"I dislike few people and he is all of them." Nice gesture: Jack Lempsey never smoking a cigar in the presence of children. Jimmy Durante streaking along with the usual unbuttoned overcoat. Wit on roller skates: Gilbert White.

O. O. McIntyre

Top imitation of the month: Courtney Ryley Cooper's of a fish. Grover Whalen has the nearest approach to the Hitler mustache hereabouts. Incongruity: Margaret Speaks sings. George Bellows's daughter who posed for the famous "Jean" painting. Now a grown up lady.

Something for the news cameras: Mrs. S. Stanwood Menken in plain gingham. The middle-aged couples who dine at Schrafft's with the man you suspect lives alone next door. When a night club can snare Mistinguette and Sonja Henie the same evening, it's sure fire for picture publicity.

A magazine idea for someone on stooges who have carved careers—Sid Silvers, Patsy Kelly, Benny Baker and several more? No author tops Joseph Hergesheimer in living the country gentleman life. Ward Morehouse and Erskine Gwynne could pass for twins in a dim light.

Rhyme: Lucius Boomer is the Waldorf's head roomer. Dandy names for a pair of goldfish—Nip and Tuck. Rattle of iron swords speech: Floyd Gibbons'. Add theater thrills: When Gallipolis, O. was mentioned right out in "The Easiest Way." And did I give it a cheer!

Harry Silvey, silver haired boulevardier, had his first brush with royalty lunching with a friend at the Ritz the other day. A countess in passing stopped to speak to Silvey's friend and in turn was presented to Silvey. While accepting the introduction an off ear-ring slipped mooring and plopped into Silvey's goblet of water. He reached for and rescued the bauble and hastily wiping his hand on a napkin beamed: "Pardon my wet cuff, countess!"

Dr. Alfred Adler, the Viennese psychologist who broke from Frued and started a school of his own, was talking about the recognizable earmarks of kindness in people. Once when there were no lodgings to be found in a German town because of conventions, Dr. Adler discovered himself in charge of a young woman who was looking for a room late at night. A strange man—and formidable looking—approached in the lobby of the hotel. He said he knew a single room that could be engaged and offered to escort the lady there. The psychologist thanked the man but declined the proposal but the girl—herself a student of psychology—asked the stranger his profession. "I am a lion tamer" he said. The girl was receptive immediately and went along with him confiding to Dr. Adler that animal trainers are the gentlest people in the world. And the master psychologist agreed. Clyde Beatty, for instance, sobs out loud at injured heroines at the movies.

Mary Roberts Rinehart, the author, has a pocket sized filipino chauffeur who keeps the imported car as gleaming as his eyes. He has Oriental written all over him and his name is Miguel. So Mrs. Rinehart's sons call him MacGil!.

Nocturne: There are silver-gray streaks shimmering the Hudson in the winter moonlight that give thin beauty to the night. Huddled figures in the long line of parked cars symbolize the glamour that holds them in romantic spell. Riverside in the late evening becomes a lane of lovers from the West 72d street beginning to Washington bridge and beyond. Oh, yes, now and then some intrepid canoeist glides out to ride the glassy swells in wake of a churning side-wheeler.

I get telegrams from Prince Obelensky, the Duke of this and the Baron of that to come to the dining rooms they are sponsoring and make myself at home—at 8 bucks or so a plate. All very royal and tip-top. And likely to make a bourgeois feel quite a one. Yet somehow I wish they would shuck dining out down to plain skillet vittles and grinning waiters of the old steamboat days. The sort who beamed: "How about another helpin', boss?" That was boardin'!

Add no sense but funny items: The fur coated Old Tory who suddenly handed his walking stick to the startled doorman in front of Saks Fifth avenue the other unreasonably warm winter morning and stamped away with a hearty garrumph. Just tired of the dang thing!
